

COOKIE POLICY

Find out all you need to know about the use of cookies when visiting flyallways.com.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small bits of information which are downloaded to the device used to visit a website. Each time that the same website is visited again, this device will be recognized.

By using cookies, information about visits and visitors will temporarily be saved by that website. Other websites may also recognize the device used through that same cookie. Per visit, various types of cookies may be used.

Cookies allow a website to customize a visit, for example by:

- Showing relevant navigation settings
- Remembering visitor preferences
- Generally improving the user experience
- Limiting the number of adverts shown

Fly AllWays use of cookies

When visiting flyallways.com you agree by default that Fly AllWays places cookies on your device.

flyallways.com matches information gathered from cookies with other information you provide about yourself, or other data that we have collected for the purposes as stated in the Fly AllWays Privacy Policy.

If you do not want flyallways.com to place cookies on your device, you can refuse the use of cookies via your browser's settings or options. Some parts of flyallways.com you may then not be able to use (properly).

Flyallways.com uses up to 4 types of cookies:

Cookie type

Description

Strictly necessary cookies

Anonymous cookies that allow visitors to navigate around Flyallways.com, use its features and access secure areas. The information gathered by these cookies cannot be used for marketing purposes. If the use of this type of cookies is not allowed, various parts of Flyallways.com cannot be used.

Performance cookies

Anonymous cookies that help Fly AllWays improve its website. These types of cookies collect information about how visitors use flyallways.com, for instance about most visited pages, or the number of error messages shown. An example of this type is Web Analytics cookies.

The information gathered by these cookies cannot be used for marketing purposes, and is not distributed to third parties.

Functionality cookies

Anonymous cookies that allow flyallways.com to remember visitor choices and preferences. Based on this information, flyallways.com can show more relevant information to individual visitors. Examples of data gathered are country and language preferences.

If not allowing the use of this type of cookies, this will:
